Dear/ To whom it may concern

Re: Webber Engineering.

In the past 6 years I have worked with Webber Engineering on 2 large Academy Projects.

On these projects, the things that struck me about Webber, was there pro-active approach to all aspects of Health and Safety, from the production of relevant method statements and risk assessments, through to the practical implementation of method and risk on site.

Webber have a non-confrontational approach to any financial issues that may arise through the course of the contract and indeed, will always look to provide the best and most cost effective solution available.

Webber are very reliable when it comes to programme and the quality of their work is always of the highest of standards.

I would have no hesitation in using Webber on my future projects.

Yours faithfully
